MARKET OUTLOOK: STOCK MARKET

The PSEI gained 4.5% Mom and stretched its rally again for the 4th consecutive month. Net foreign flows continued to remain positive for the 4th month in a row amounting to Php7.2billion (up from Php4.5billion in January). The index ended the month of February at 6,945, trading at 12.1x 2024 P/E and 31.0% below the past 15-year average P/E. This is also the highest level it had for the month, with its lowest right at the start of February at 6,623 levels. The main catalyst for growth in the market as with the month of January continues to be the policy rate decision by both the US Federal Reserve and the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas. The Federal Reserve has so far shown that policymakers are not keen on cutting interest rates too soon and traders have pushed back expectations on when the Fed will be cutting rates as officials continue to caution that they want to see more evidence that inflation will continue to decline with higher-than-expected consumer and producer price inflation. The Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) has seven more opportunities to cut rates this year starting in the next meeting in March 19 or 20.

In the Philippines, effects of El Nino will be felt in the coming months, with the phenomenon expected to persist until May this year. Proposed wage hikes have also been filed in Congress at a daily rate increase ranging from Php100 to up to Php400 but is already being met with resistance from business groups and economists and seen as an unnecessary component which may lead to prolonged exposure.

Metropolitan Bank & Trust Co., or Metrobank (MBT), grew its net income by 28.9% to Php42.2 billion last year from the level in 2022 due to higher demand for consumer loans. Consumer loans outgrew by 15.9% compared to business loans which only grew 5.5% leading to a net income growth of 22.7%.

The Bank's NPL or non-performing loan ratio improved to 1.7% form 1.9% year-on-year, better than industry average of 3.3%. However, trading gains were mostly unchanged, at Php4 billion. Deposit base grew by 7.3% to Php2.4 trillion as most clients accumulated funds in low-cost current and savings accounts. The bank stressed that resources were better managed as cost-to-income ratio was lowered to 52.1% from 54.3%. The Bank declared that it will distribute a total of Php5/share dividends this year, translating to a higher than historical dividend yield of 8%.

AREIT, Inc.'s net income surged by 43% to P4.93 billion in 2023, driven by increased occupancy rates and asset acquisitions. The company's revenue increased by 41% to P7.14 billion, while earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation, and amortization rose by 39% to P5.04 billion, the company said in a regulatory filing.

AREIT properties logged a 97% average occupancy at the end of 2023. The company said its financial performance last year was carried by the acquisition of One Ayala Avenue East and West Towers at the corner of Ayala Avenue and EDSA, Glorietta 1 and 2 Mall and business process outsourcing buildings at Ayala Center, and MarQueue Mall in Angeles, Pampanga. "Our growth initiatives will benefit AREIT — profoundly enlarging the portfolio further, diversifying the assets, reducing concentration risk, and most importantly, providing our shareholder's dividend accretion," AREIT President and Chief Executive Officer Carol T. Mills said.

Aboitiz Power Corp. said that tapping all available sources of power, whether traditional or renewable, and sufficient transmission facilities will address lingering concerns in power stability and reliability. Company president Emmanuel Rubio said the significance of conventional energy sources ensures a consistent electricity supply in both the short- and long-term vis-a-vis supporting the growth ambitions of the country.

The power firm is targeting a 50:50 balance between its renewable and thermal capacities by 2030. In its website, Aboitiz Power said it has 20 thermal facilities. Other challenges that need to be addressed include global supply chain uncertainties, anticipated effects of El Niño, and the 6.6-percent increase in electricity consumption this year, which will require 600 to 700 megawatts (MW) of additional power.

The planned P6.75 billion acquisition of ABS-CBN Corporation's Sky Cable by PLDT Inc. will no longer push through as both parties have mutually decided not to proceed with the transaction for undisclosed reasons. It could be recalled that the two firms had agreed on the acquisition and signed a Sale and Purchase Agreement in March 2023. PLDT was supposed to buy Sky's broadband business while the cable television business will be shut down by Sky prior to the change of ownership. Under the agreement signed last year, PLDT planned to acquire all the issued and outstanding capital stock of Sky from Sky Vision Corporation, ABS-CBN, and Lopez Inc. PLDT said the proposed transaction was expected to benefit the existing broadband subscribers of both PLDT and Sky by strengthening and expanding the coverage of their offerings and services, particularly in remote areas; and upgrading overall customer experience through the combined expertise, resources, and capabilities of PLDT and Sky.

Given the Philippines good economic outlook, lower inflation outlook and possibility of policy rate cuts from both the USD FED and the BSP, we are look at a PSEi target of 7,300-7,500. Cautiously accumulate on weakness.
